Historical Context	This building was opened in 1883 by George Stupart, who established a drapery and boot shop in Maryborough in 1871. The building was designed by the prominent Queensland architect, F. D. G. Stanley. Various works were undertaken on the building in the 1920s and 1930s, inlcuding including the installation of new shopfronts. The architect responsible for the work was the prominent Maryborough architect, P.O.E. Hawkes.
Physical Description	This building is a significant corner-element within the Maryborough Town Centre. All the 1925 shopfronts have subsequently been removed and remodelled with modern frontages.
