PD Online

PD Online is an interactive online planning and development system that includes mapping tools, the planning scheme text and access to "Property enquiry" and "Application enquiry" search options.

PD Online provides the user with 24 hour access to planning and development information.

Property enquiry is a property search tool that provides planning information about a property, including:

- property description details;
- site area;
- zone; overlays;
- applications; and
- a property map.

Application enquiry allows you to view and monitor the progress of a development application from lodgement to decision (with the exception of plumbing & drainage and building applications). You can search applications submitted and decided by the application number, the week, the month or the year.

The capabilities include:

- see the application details;
- the stage or the decision;
- the development type;
- property details;
- application documents and formal correspondence;
- email direct to the assessing officer.

PD Online also provides a link to an interactive mapping tool that allows the user to search for a site with zooming options and includes the Zone, Local Plan, Overlay and Priority Infrastructure Plan mapping features.

Land Use enquiry function is under development. The Land Use enquiry will allow you to determine if specific land uses on your property need planning approval through a series of questions with yes or no answers.

Access to PD Online is available through Council's website www.frasercoast.qld.gov.au.
